

2013–2014 High School Completion Status

Your 2013-2014 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) was selected for review in a process called verification. The law says that before awarding Federal Student Aid, we may ask you to confirm the information you reported on your FAFSA. To verify that you provided correct information, we will compare your FAFSA with the information provided from the documentation that is provided to us that we have requested below. If there are any differences, your FAFSA information may need to be corrected. We do have the right to ask for additional documentation. If you have any questions about verification, contact us as soon as possible so that your financial aid will not be delayed.

Please provide one of the following documents that indicate the student's high school completion status when the student will begin college in 2013-2014:

- A copy of the student's high school diploma.
- A copy of the student's final official high school transcript that shows the date when the diploma was awarded.
- A copy of the student's General Educational Development (GED) certificate or GED transcript.
- An academic transcript that indicates the student successfully completed at least a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit toward a bachelor's degree.
- If State law requires a homeschooled student to obtain a secondary school completion credential for homeschooled (other than a high school diploma or its recognized equivalent), a copy of that credential.
- If state law does not require a homeschooled student to obtain a secondary school completion credential for homeschool (other than a high school diploma or its recognized equivalent), a transcript or the equivalent, signed by the student's parent or guardian, that lists the secondary school courses the student completed and documents the successful completion of a secondary school education in a homeschool setting.

If the student is unable to obtain the documentation listed above, he or she must contact the Student Financial Services Office at 724-480-3501.

Submit the above documentation to the Student Financial Services Office at the Community College of Beaver County